I am opposed to changing the zoning of any land for the use of recreation or conservation, when our grid is already being stretched.

The state needs to do a lot more research so that we can be a lot more self-sufficient instead of creating new places for visitors to come and spread out while lowering our property values.

Roads are already overcrowded. We don't need more cars driving around or more people coming here when there are plenty of houses that need to be sold at a fair price.

Sincerely, Sherri Carden
Hilo resident
