Subject: Mahukona in North Kohala

The open lands around Mahukona are very important to the local Kohala population, and it is not appropriate to put any resort, golf course, or high end housing. People hike, swim. There is no water or electricity, as it should be in open areas that are protecting this important coastline and ocean. When the former plantation was failing they somehow got a zoning change... which is not in line with the plan to purchase this land for public use. It will be done. This community cares and feels it is critical to make sure this land is protected. The sacred sites are protected... This historical coastline remains as is for everyone. Mahalo.
